OPEN ACCESS WEEK
OCTOBER 24-28
“OPENING DOORS, OPENING MINDS”

Beyond the Copyright Wars: Fair Use, Free Speech, and Reframing the Policy Debate

Copyright has become a terrifying word, as copyright problems have floated into everyone’s daily life. Journalists, bloggers, filmmakers, photographers, librarians, teachers, students and remix artists face daily decisions about how to handle copyrighted material when they use it in their work.

Recent research on fair use has reframed the academic and policy discourse around copyright and fair use. Patricia Aufderheide will discuss this reframing in a discussion of her new book, Reclaiming Fair Use: How to Put Balance Back in Copyright.

Aufderheide is an American University communications professor and the Director of the Center for Social Media. She co-authored the book with Professor Peter Jaszi of the Washington College of Law at American University and together they head the Fair Use and Free Speech research project at the Center for Social Media.
