

My MISADVENTURES in Scheduling Innovation

by Annette M. Vadnais

Flex Time!

Where I work the librarians have the opportunity to apply for flexible work options

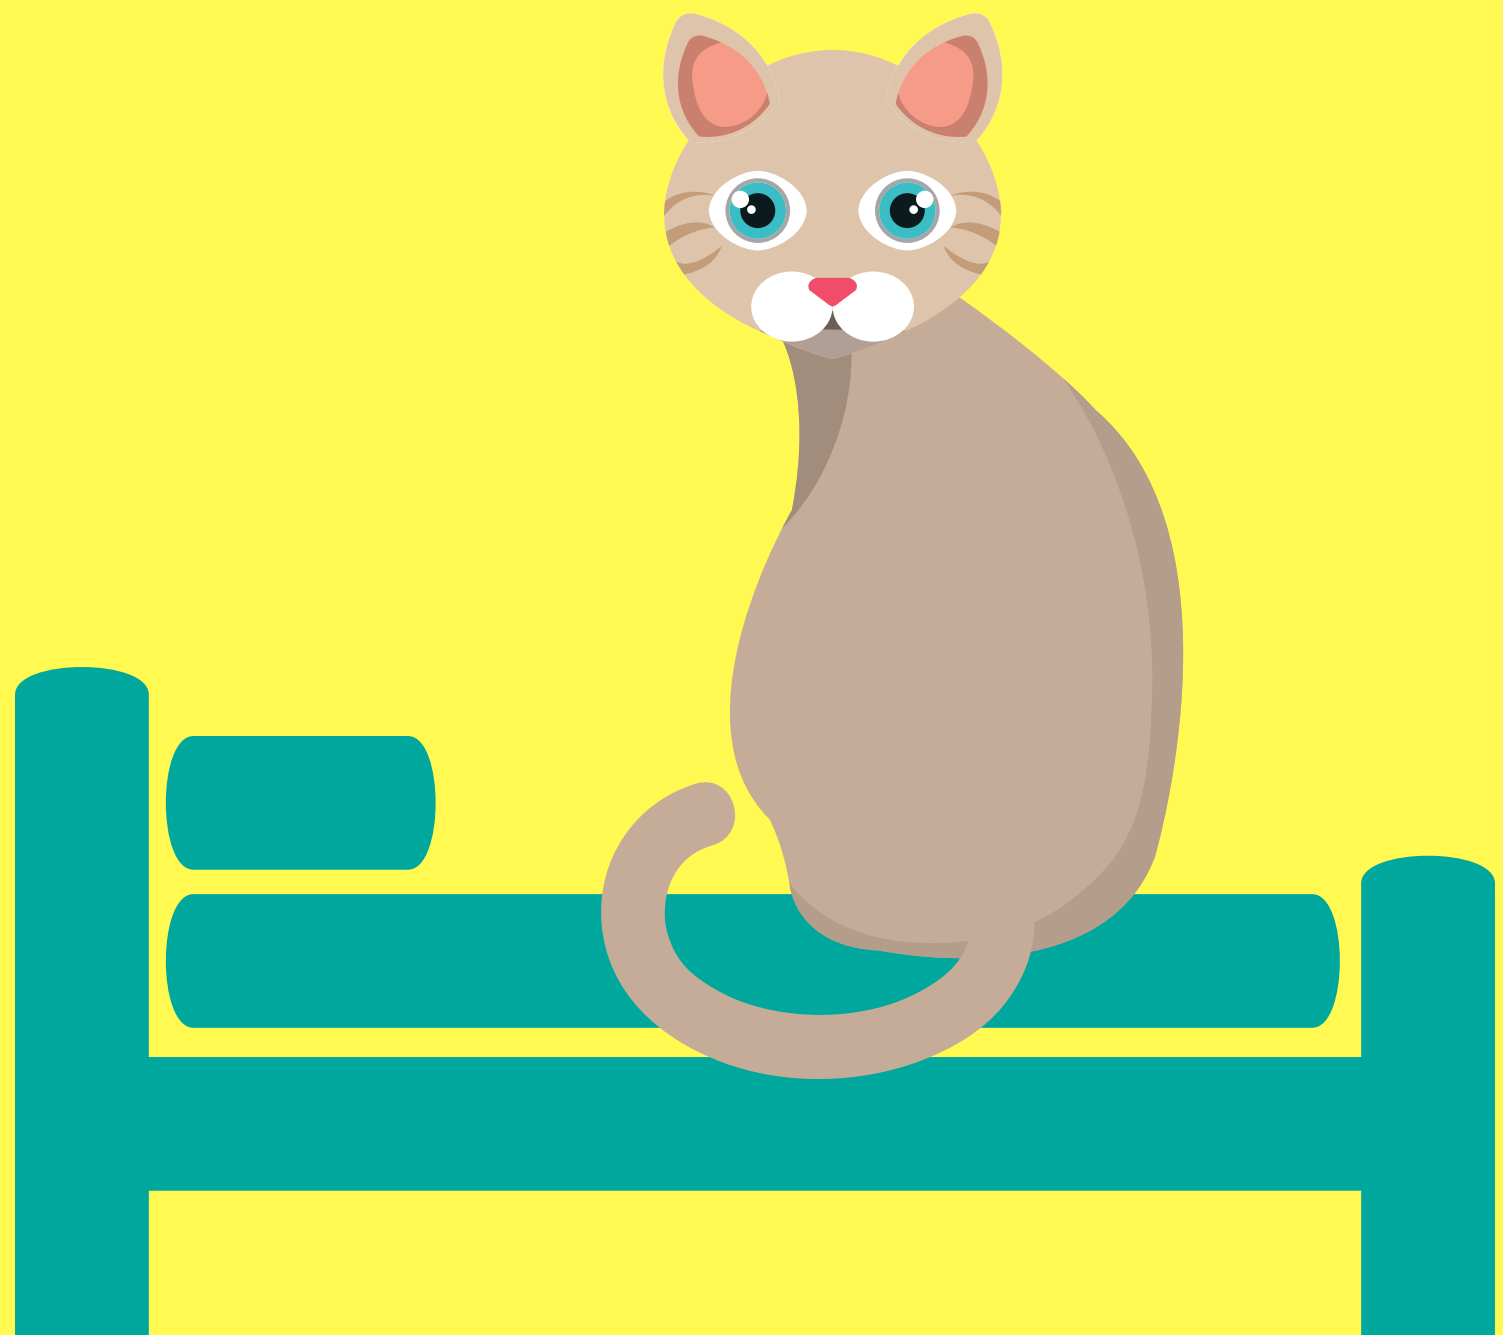

Opportunity

I was asked to help promote College and Libraries to Springfield students, grade K-12

Innovation

Inspired to create dynamic programming, I asked to work remotely one day a month

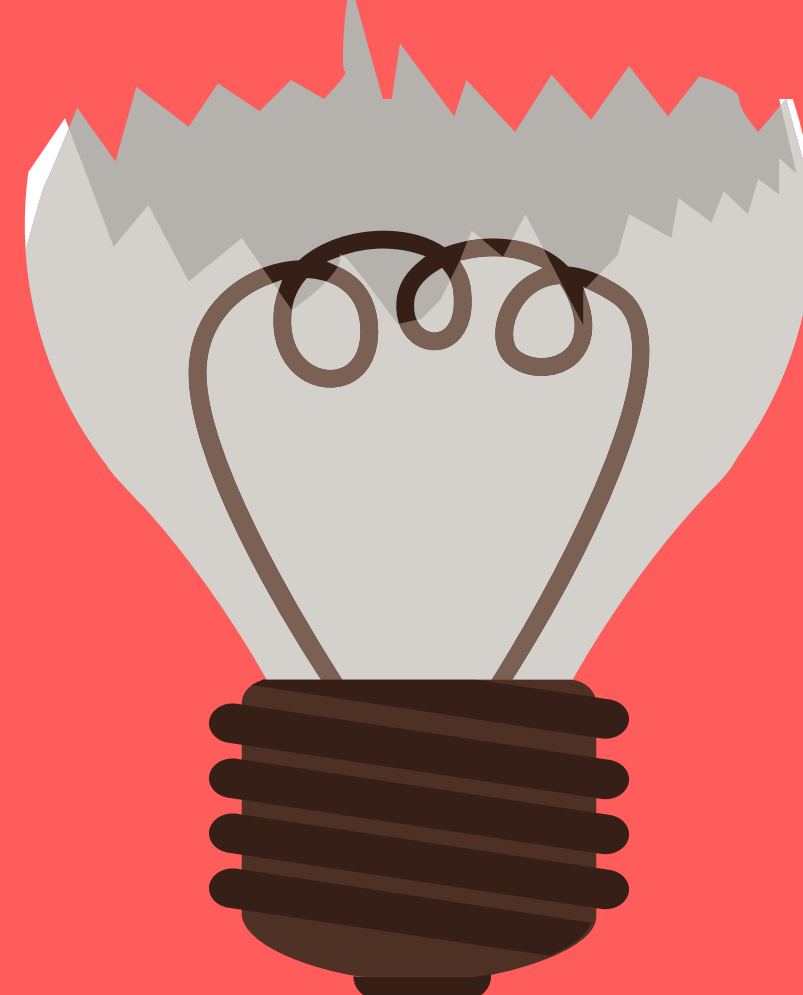

Homework?

I eliminated the idea of working from home, I knew my bed and cats would be a distraction

Libraries

I chose instead to work from various public and college libraries. Which was eye opening

FAIL!

I personally found trying to schedule creativity proved too difficult. Inspiration has no schedule
