Uncovering the History of Africans in Asia

Edited by Shihan de Silva Jayasuriya and Jean-Pierre Angenot.

Brill Academic Publishers, Paperback, xii, 196pp., ISBN-13: 9789004162914, July, 2008.

Description from the Publisher:

Study of the African diaspora is now a dynamic field in the development of new methods and approaches to African history. Unlike the transAtlantic diaspora, eastwards African migrants have received little attention. Studies on communities of African origin in Asia have increased, and some have restored the gallantry and glory that once belonged to some African migrants in Asia. This book brings together the latest research on African diaspora in Asia with case studies about India and the Indian Ocean islands.

For those interested in African and Asian history, the history of the slave trade and slavery, migration, diaspora studies, demography, development studies, subaltern, military history, colonisation and imperial studies, and cross-continental commerce.

Shihan de Silva Jayasuriya, PhD Linguistics (University of Westminster), is a Senior Fellow at the Institute of Commonwealth Studies (University of London). Jean-Pierre Angenot, PhD in African Linguistics (University of London) and PhD in Romance Philology (University of Brussels), is a Professor of Ethnolinguistics at the Federal University of Rondonia (Brazil).
