

Figure 8.13. Changes in the Hackensack Meadowlands (NJ) from 1889 to 1995. While subjected to drainage, diking, and road construction since Colonial times, filling of the Meadowlands to create real estate accelerated after World War II. Wetland conversion slowed since the 1980s and today wetland restoration efforts are under way. (Tiner et al. 2002)