2014

Annual Report 2014

Jay Schafer
University of Massachusetts Amherst

Follow this and additional works at: https://scholarworks.umass.edu/libraries_reports
Part of the Library and Information Science Commons

Retrieved from https://scholarworks.umass.edu/libraries_reports/11

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the University Libraries at ScholarWorks@UMass Amherst. It has been accepted for inclusion in University Libraries Annual Reports by an authorized administrator of ScholarWorks@UMass Amherst. For more information, please contact scholarworks@library.umass.edu.
$31,000
Amount raised at annual Dinner with Friends to support the Special Collections Archival Training Fund

$1,001,491
Thank you to donors!

How Donors Gave to the Library

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Gift Type</th>
<th>Percentage</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Gifts of Materials</td>
<td>30%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Specific Allocations</td>
<td>25%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Library Materials</td>
<td>15%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Miscellaneous</td>
<td>15%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>General Fund</td>
<td>10%</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Library Expenditures FY14

- Total Expenditures: $18,210,794
- Library Materials: $7,571,961

SPECIAL COLLECTIONS AND UNIVERSITY ARCHIVES

Special Collections and University Archives (SCUA) continued to grow in 2014, on the shelf and online.

- SCUA added descriptions for 65 new collections to the online finding aid, Credo.
- SCUA’s digital repository now holds 11,271 items in 56 different collections.
- Total page views on Credo were over 4,125,731.

Instruction sessions on archival research were given to 30 classes. Fellowships were awarded to 4 scholars.

Researchers visited from as close as on campus and as far away as Australia.

DIGITIZATION HIGHLIGHTS

- Burt V. Brooks Photograph Collection
- Ege Medieval Manuscripts
- Aldin Grout Papers
- Jeff Albertson Photograph Collection
- Barbara Rotundo Papers

UNPACK THE IMPACT

August 2015 - May 2016

We need your help!RESHINE THEMED UNPACK THE IMPACT CAMPAIGN. Create awareness of the SCUA's collection via your email list, social media, or other means.
YOUR LIBRARIES BY THE NUMBERS*

Volumes in the Libraries

- 4,000,000 Volumes

Four Millionth Volume

- A small booklet of the Emancipation Proclamation from 1862

E-books

- 1,632,455 E-books - an increase of 81%

Visitors to the Libraries

- 1,488,006 Visitors to the Libraries - the equivalent of someone walking into the Du Bois Library every 25 seconds, all day, every day of the year!

Items checked out of the Libraries

- 119,992 Items checked out of the Libraries

Languages coded as the primary language in the catalog

- 322 Languages

Searches - approximately one every 31 seconds (through WorldCat Local)

- 1,019,824 Searches in calendar year 2014

Facebook friends

- 210 Facebook friends, an increase of 54%

Number of student workers

- 1,972 Number of student workers in calendar year 2014

Number of times the Digital Media Lab loaned out equipment

- 22,519 Number of times the Digital Media Lab loaned out equipment: digital cameras, camcorders, headphones, memory card readers, and more.

Laptop loans

- 5,119 Laptop loans

Funded projects

- Launched a project to digitize theses and dissertations
- Provided funding for Open Access Publishing
- Acquired site license to The New York Times website
- Developed OpenTextbookLibrary in successful pilot program
- Acquired a state-of-the-art resource sharing server as part of the Refereeing Resources Sharing Initiative
- Developed a new model for curating Open Access to scholarly works in Special Collections and University Archives
- Launched a new publication in Special Collections
- Awarded author of Open Access Pete Suber

Enhancing the Student Learning Experience

- Relocated the Reference Desk in the Du Bois Library to a more visible and convenient location for students
- Installed microclimates of new furniture in the Learning Commons
- Doubled the amount of sound booths, created a larger green-screen facility, and increased the number of computers on the DigitalMediaLab to 200
- Developed "Innovative Learning Concepts" for Peer Instruction in Science classes
- Hosted the New York Times "Ask an Expert" program
- Installed a music library as part of a nursing study to extend the knowledge of the impact on stress and relaxation
- Hosted therapy dogs for stress relief and gaming events

FY2014

- $23,820 Dollars spent
- 599 Items purchased
- $58,811 Average price per item

Ask for Textbooks

- 123,590 Books received for digital reserves
- 7,460 Items made available in Reserves for 848 courses, an increase of 23%

ScholarWorks

- 3,728 Submissions in calendar year 2014
- 1,496,627 Patrons served at the Circulation/Reserves Desk
- 27,573 Article requests to Interlibrary Loan, with a filled rate of 95% and an average number of 15 hours to receive requested articles

Sustainability

- Created a new Undergraduate Research in Sustainability Award
- Launched "Revolution" an ecosystem initiative to foster leadership in innovative thinking and energy efficiency

2014 HIGHLIGHTS

- Providing Access to Information
-Enhancing the Student Learning Experience
-Increasing Sustainability

Meet the Demand

- The Books on Demand program began in 2007 for faculty and students who need text materials quickly expanded to undergraduate and staff. Through feedback from students, faculty, and other campus partners, the program continued to develop, more recent publications, and more diverse requests were frequently used.

- Our students love these alternative textbook options because they are more timely and often cheaper than textbook costs.

- Undergraduate and graduate programs in many fields have found tremendous success with the Books on Demand program.

- Leveraging the University’s Online Education Initiative, language labs that are part of the Office of the Provost and the Office of Information Technology have embarked on a digital revolution.

- The Libraries have been the principal innovators in this transformation over the past five years by providing alternative and high-quality electronic resources.

- The Libraries have invested in new programs and technologies that have led to new ways for faculty and students to access information.

- The Libraries’ mission is to provide access to information.

- The Libraries’ mission is to provide access to information and to support the teaching and learning enterprise of the University.

- Providing Access to Information
- Enhancing the Student Learning Experience
- Increasing Sustainability

- Launched a project to digitize theses and dissertations
- Provided funding for Open Access Publishing
- Acquired site license to The New York Times website
- Developed OpenTextbookLibrary in successful pilot program
- Acquired a state-of-the-art resource sharing server as part of the Refereeing Resources Sharing Initiative
- Developed a new model for curating Open Access to scholarly works in Special Collections and University Archives
- Launched a new publication in Special Collections
- Awarded author of Open Access Pete Suber

- Relocated the Reference Desk in the Du Bois Library to a more visible and convenient location for students
- Installed microclimates of new furniture in the Learning Commons
- Doubled the amount of sound booths, created a larger green-screen facility, and increased the number of computers on the DigitalMediaLab to 200
- Developed "Innovative Learning Concepts" for Peer Instruction in Science classes
- Hosted the New York Times "Ask an Expert" program
- Installed a music library as part of a nursing study to extend the knowledge of the impact on stress and relaxation
- Hosted therapy dogs for stress relief and gaming events

- Created a new Undergraduate Research in Sustainability Award
- Launched "Revolution" an ecosystem initiative to foster leadership in innovative thinking and energy efficiency

- Our students love these alternative textbook options because they are more timely and often cheaper than textbook costs.

- Undergraduate and graduate programs in many fields have found tremendous success with the Books on Demand program.

- Leveraging the University’s Online Education Initiative, language labs that are part of the Office of the Provost and the Office of Information Technology have embarked on a digital revolution.

- The Libraries have been the principal innovators in this transformation over the past five years by providing alternative and high-quality electronic resources.

- The Libraries have invested in new programs and technologies that have led to new ways for faculty and students to access information.

- The Libraries’ mission is to provide access to information.

- The Libraries’ mission is to provide access to information and to support the teaching and learning enterprise of the University.

- Providing Access to Information
- Enhancing the Student Learning Experience
- Increasing Sustainability

- Launched a project to digitize theses and dissertations
- Provided funding for Open Access Publishing
- Acquired site license to The New York Times website
- Developed OpenTextbookLibrary in successful pilot program
- Acquired a state-of-the-art resource sharing server as part of the Refereeing Resources Sharing Initiative
- Developed a new model for curating Open Access to scholarly works in Special Collections and University Archives
- Launched a new publication in Special Collections
- Awarded author of Open Access Pete Suber

- Relocated the Reference Desk in the Du Bois Library to a more visible and convenient location for students
- Installed microclimates of new furniture in the Learning Commons
- Doubled the amount of sound booths, created a larger green-screen facility, and increased the number of computers on the DigitalMediaLab to 200
- Developed "Innovative Learning Concepts" for Peer Instruction in Science classes
- Hosted the New York Times "Ask an Expert" program
- Installed a music library as part of a nursing study to extend the knowledge of the impact on stress and relaxation
- Hosted therapy dogs for stress relief and gaming events

- Created a new Undergraduate Research in Sustainability Award
- Launched "Revolution" an ecosystem initiative to foster leadership in innovative thinking and energy efficiency

- Our students love these alternative textbook options because they are more timely and often cheaper than textbook costs.

- Undergraduate and graduate programs in many fields have found tremendous success with the Books on Demand program.

- Leveraging the University’s Online Education Initiative, language labs that are part of the Office of the Provost and the Office of Information Technology have embarked on a digital revolution.

- The Libraries have been the principal innovators in this transformation over the past five years by providing alternative and high-quality electronic resources.

- The Libraries have invested in new programs and technologies that have led to new ways for faculty and students to access information.

- The Libraries’ mission is to provide access to information.

- The Libraries’ mission is to provide access to information and to support the teaching and learning enterprise of the University.

- Providing Access to Information
- Enhancing the Student Learning Experience
- Increasing Sustainability

- Launched a project to digitize theses and dissertations
- Provided funding for Open Access Publishing
- Acquired site license to The New York Times website
- Developed OpenTextbookLibrary in successful pilot program
- Acquired a state-of-the-art resource sharing server as part of the Refereeing Resources Sharing Initiative
- Developed a new model for curating Open Access to scholarly works in Special Collections and University Archives
- Launched a new publication in Special Collections
- Awarded author of Open Access Pete Suber

- Relocated the Reference Desk in the Du Bois Library to a more visible and convenient location for students
- Installed microclimates of new furniture in the Learning Commons
- Doubled the amount of sound booths, created a larger green-screen facility, and increased the number of computers on the DigitalMediaLab to 200
- Developed "Innovative Learning Concepts" for Peer Instruction in Science classes
- Hosted the New York Times "Ask an Expert" program
- Installed a music library as part of a nursing study to extend the knowledge of the impact on stress and relaxation
- Hosted therapy dogs for stress relief and gaming events

- Created a new Undergraduate Research in Sustainability Award
- Launched "Revolution" an ecosystem initiative to foster leadership in innovative thinking and energy efficiency

- Our students love these alternative textbook options because they are more timely and often cheaper than textbook costs.

- Undergraduate and graduate programs in many fields have found tremendous success with the Books on Demand program.

- Leveraging the University’s Online Education Initiative, language labs that are part of the Office of the Provost and the Office of Information Technology have embarked on a digital revolution.

- The Libraries have been the principal innovators in this transformation over the past five years by providing alternative and high-quality electronic resources.

- The Libraries have invested in new programs and technologies that have led to new ways for faculty and students to access information.

- The Libraries’ mission is to provide access to information.