

Contributions in Black Studies

A Journal of African and Afro-American Studies

Volume 8

Article 11

1986

Back Matter

Follow this and additional works at: <http://scholarworks.umass.edu/cibs>

Recommended Citation

(1986) "Back Matter," Contributions in Black Studies: Vol. 8 , Article 11.
Available at: <http://scholarworks.umass.edu/cibs/vol8/iss1/11>

This Back Matter is brought to you for free and open access by the Afro-American Studies at ScholarWorks@UMass Amherst. It has been accepted for inclusion in Contributions in Black Studies by an authorized editor of ScholarWorks@UMass Amherst. For more information, please contact scholarworks@library.umass.edu.

THE REINTERMENT OF SHIRLEY GRAHAM DU BOIS AND W.E.B. DU BOIS

THE UNIVERSITY OF MASSACHUSETTS figured prominently in the ceremonial reinterment of the remains of Dr. W.E.B. Du Bois and Shirley Graham Du Bois that was held from August 26-29, 1986 in Accra, Ghana. Dr. Edgar E. Smith, Vice President for Academic Affairs for the UMass system and Prof. William Strickland, Special Assistant to the Chancellor at UMass, Amherst, and Director of the Du Bois Papers Project, officially represented the University. The four days of activities, organized by the Ghana Ministry of Education and Culture, in cooperation with the Amherst-based W.E.B. Du Bois Foundation, Inc., included the dedication of an especially constructed tomb and Shrine on the grounds of the former Du Bois residence in Accra, a two-day Symposium on Pan Africanism and a variety of cultural presentations reflecting Pan African unity and honoring the role and contributions of Dr. Du Bois to the Pan African movement.

In June, 1986, the Du Bois residence in Accra had been reconstituted the W.E.B. Du Bois Memorial Centre for Pan African Culture by Ghana Head of State, Flt. Lt. J. J. Rawlings, with the purpose of creating a permanent repository and coordinating center for research materials, scholars, students and activists of Pan Africanism.

On the occasion of the August activities held at the Du Bois Memorial Centre, the University of Massachusetts contributed to the Centre a complete, 89-reel microfilmed set of the Du Bois Papers, comprising some 150,000 items. The Du Bois papers are currently housed in the UMass, Amherst library. UMass also contributed a set of the UMass Press Du Bois publications and a duplication of three panels from the UMass Du Bois Exhibition. UMass, Amherst was also instrumental in securing the agreement of Kraus International Publications, Inc., to donate to the Centre a set of its 37-volume Collected Published Works of W.E.B. Du Bois.

In his address before the international audience of scholars, government officials, diplomats, students and the Ghanaian public at the reinterment/dedication ceremony, Dr. Smith said:

I did not have the pleasure of meeting this great man, yet I feel as if I have known him throughout a greater part of my life. For, to so many of us he served as the quintessential intellectual model for Black people . . . I, along with most of you here, have also been deeply touched by Dr. Du Bois' all encompassing struggle against injustice. I feel no need to recount the intensity of that struggle. But I do feel compelled to challenge you to take advantage of this occasion to honor him by renewing our commitment to the cause for which he was so completely devoted.

A two-day Symposium, "Coming together around Du Bois", featured papers on "Pan Africanism: Yesterday, Today & Tomorrow," and "Perspectives of Black Consciousness" presented by eminent scholars from Africa, the U.S., the Caribbean and South America. At its conclusion the Accra Declaration was adopted by acclamation. It called on institutions, governments, scholars and other individuals in Africa and throughout the African Diaspora to support and participate in the development of the Du Bois Memorial Centre for Pan African Culture and for the convening of the 7th Pan African Congress to address particularly the struggle in South Africa and Namibia, to be held somewhere on the African continent in August, 1988, the 120th anniversary year of the birth of Dr. Du Bois and the 25th anniversary of his death.

Since these events the Ghana Government has allocated to the Centre the two lots and several structures adjoining the present site, increasing the site to the approximate size of a city block. The Management Committee of the Centre plans renovation and construction projects to provide a library and reading room, a lecture hall and auditorium, a guest house equipped initially to accommodate four to six visiting scholars, and landscaped gardens. The former home is now being renovated to serve as an exhibition hall of Du Bois and Pan African memorabilia.

UMass, Amherst participants on the occasion included Prof. Chester Davis, Chair of the W.E.B. Du Bois Department of Afro-American Studies and Department members Professors Esther Terry and Eugene Terry. David G. Du Bois, step-son of Dr. Du Bois, Visiting Lecturer at UMass, Amherst, and President of the W.E.B. Du Bois Foundation participated as a guest of the Ghana Government.

CONTRIBUTORS

Nikola A. Baumgarten is a Ph.D. candidate in American Civilization at Harvard University. John H. Bracey, Jr., Associate Professor of Afro-American History at the University of Massachusetts, has been teaching courses on the history of Afro-American women over the past few years. Having recently joined the editorial board of Contributions, he is currently at work with August Meier on a historical monograph focusing on the NAACP and organized labor. Rosalind Cash is a prominent actor who has appeared in numerous films and television episodes. (Please see her interview for additional information.) Maceo Crenshaw Dailey, Jr., Assistant Professor of History at Boston College, recently concluded the first part of a biography of Emmett J. Scott, and is in the process of producing a sequel to Rayford Logan's 1944 classic, What the Negro Wants, entitled What Afro-Americans Want. St. Clair Drake, Professor Emeritus of Sociology and Anthropology at Stanford University, has recently had published his Black Folk Here and There: An Essay in History and Anthropology (Los Angeles: UCLA Center for Afro-American Studies, 1987). (For further information on Drake, see the Drake-Shepperson presentation.) Sidney Kaplan, Professor Emeritus of English at the University of Massachusetts at Amherst, also holds an Honorary Doctorate in Humane Letters from that institution. He is currently preparing a scholarly edition of his highly regarded and now out-of-print work, The Black Presence in the Era of the American Revolution 1770-1800. Ketu H. Katrak, author of Wole Soyinka and Modern Tragedy: A Study of Dramatic Theory and Practice (Greenwood, 1967) and compiler, with James Gibbs and Henry Louis Gates, of Wole Soyinka: A Bibliography of Primary and Secondary Sources (Greenwood, 1986), is Assistant Professor of English at the University of Massachusetts at Amherst. George A. Levesque is Associate Professor of Afro-American History at the State University of New York at Albany. Irma McClaurin-Allen, interviewer of Rosalind Cash, has a MFA from the University of Massachusetts and is a free-lance writer and poet. Her third book of poetry, Pearl's Song, will appear in 1988. George Shepperson is William Robertson Professor of Commonwealth and American History at the University of Edinburgh. (Please consult his presentation for additional information.) Chezia Thompson-Cager is Associate Professor in the Afro-American Studies and Theatre departments at Smith College. She is currently completing a book-length work on the subject of Earl Lovelace entitled "Dragon: The Work of Earl Lovelace," and is directing the American premiere of his play, "Jestina's Calypso."

NEW FROM MASSACHUSETTS

Duties, Pleasures, and Conflicts

Essays in Struggle

Michael Thelwell

Introduction by James Baldwin

"A brilliantly written collection in two genres: three outstanding short stories set in the Mississippi Delta, followed by more than a dozen sharp essays on politics and literature, all but five of them written in the heat of the '60s. With any justice, this book will become a basic, widely used text on the Movement." —Mother Jones
Cloth $27.50, paperback $10.95

The Black Cloth

A Collection of African Folktales

Bernard Binlin Dadié

Translated by Karen C. Hatch

Introduction by Es'kia Mphahlele

"These 16 stories, an exquisite fusion of entertainment and ethics, demonstrate the sophisticated taste for song, epic, pun, riddle and satire of African peoples south of the Sahara." —New York Times Book Review
Cloth $20.00, paperback $8.95

The Afro-American Novel and Its Tradition

Bernard W. Bell

"Bell shows that the Afro-American writer's unique experience with reality and with matters of right and wrong, good and evil, has produced a literature both at odds with the American tradition and consistent with itself. With Bell's work accomplished, a canon can be established right to the present day."
—Jerome Klinkowitz, U. of Northern Iowa
Cloth $25.00

For a complete catalog of our books in Black Studies, write to:

University of Massachusetts Press

Box 429 Amherst 01004

Subscribe to THEBLACKSCHOLAR

Don't Miss a Single Issue

One year—$25.00 yr
Institutions—$35.00 yr

Enclosed is $. Start my sub today.
PREPAYMENT IS REQUIRED. Send
check or money order with your order.

Name

Address

City

State Zip Code

Black Scholar Subscriptions
P.O. Box 2869
Oakland, CA 94609

Contributions in Black Studies

Back Issues

7 [1985-1986] William Eric Perkins, "Requiem for a Revolution: Perspectives on the U.S./OCES Intervention in Grenada" Onita Estes-Hicks, "Jean Toomer and the Politics and Poetics of National Identity" Ernest Allen, Jr., "Afro-American Identity: Reflections on the Pre-Civil War Era"

6 [1983-1984] Franklin W. Knight, "The Crisis in the Contemporary Caribbean" Roberto Marquez, "Grenada: History, Neocolonialism, and Culture in the Contemporary Caribbean" Charles A. Frye, Charlyn Harper, Linda James Myers, Eleanor W. Traylor, "How to Think Black: A Symposium on Toni Cade Bambara's The Salt Eaters" James Baldwin, "Nothing Personal"

5 [1981-1982] Roger N. Buckley, "The British Army's African Recruitment Policy, 1790- 1807" John C. Walter, "West Indian Immigrants: Those Arrogant Bastards" Monica H. Gordon, "In Search of a Means to a Better Life: Caribbean Migration to the United States" Paul L. Puryear, "The Measurement of Manpower Policy Impacts in the Black Community: Income Mobility and Occupational Status" Theresa Jenoure, "The Afro-American Fiddler" Julius Lester, "The Black Writer"

4 [1980-1981] John Downing, "Racial Oppression and the British State Into the Eighties" James R. Mitchell, "The Marketing of Black Music" Alice J. Smith, "René Maran's Batouala and the Prix-Goncourt" John Benoit, "Archetypal Patterns Underlying Traditional African Cultures: Janheitz Jahn's Muntu and Chinua Achebe's Things Fall Apart" Mark Lushington, "Heart of Darkness and Cultural Nationalism" Hap Washington, "The Black Lawyer as Non-Person in the Media, or 'Is You Da Alligator or Da Aligatee?'" Dorrance James Hill—Sculpture Charles Frye, "The Role of Philosophy in Black Studies"

3 [1979-1980] William G. Harris, "Black Family Research: A Conceptual Overview" William Eric Perkins, "Afro-American Slavery: Notes on New Trends in Theory and Research" Ernest Allen, Jr., "'Close Ranks': Major Joel E. Springarn and the Two Souls of Dr. W.E.B. Du Bois" Bill Owens, "A New Beginning Towards a More Productive Future for Black Studies"

2 [1978-1979] Esther Terry, "Wright's Native Son: The Burden It Bears" E. Jefferson Murphy, "Bantu Education: Instrument of Political Socialization" Imani Kazana, "Black Springfield: A Historical Study II" Debbie Viets, "The Political Reality of Prisons"

(#1 is out of print)

1 Year Subscription: Individuals, $3.00 <input type="checkbox"/>	Institutions, $5.00 <input type="checkbox"/>	[issue # 8]
1 Year Subscription: Individuals, $3.00 <input type="checkbox"/>	Institutions, $5.00 <input type="checkbox"/>	[issue # 9]
Single Back Issues: Individuals, $3.50 <input type="checkbox"/>	Institutions, $5.50 <input type="checkbox"/>	[specify]

Contributions in Black Studies is published annually. Please make checks or money orders payable to Five Colleges, Inc. Send to Five College Black Studies, 310 New Africa House, University of Massachusetts, MA 01003.

Book Dealers Write for Terms.

COMING IN 1988

special issue on Afro-American double consciousness

Contributions in BLACK STUDIES, 9

It is a peculiar sensation, this double-consciousness, this sense of always looking at one's self through the eyes of others, of measuring one's soul by the tape of a world that looks on in amused contempt and pity. One ever feels his twoness—an American, a Negro; two souls, two thoughts, two unreconciled strivings; two warring ideals in one dark body, whose dogged strength alone keeps it from being torn asunder.

—W.E.B. Du Bois, The Souls of Black Folk

Contributions in Black Studies, Five College Black Studies, 310 New Africa House, University of Massachusetts, Amherst, MA 01003.

Contributions* is also available locally from:

Common Concerns Bookstore, 1347 Connecticut Avenue NW, Washington, D.C 20036; Liberation Book Store, 421 Lenox Avenue, New York, NY 10037; Marcus Books, 1712 Fillmore Street, San Francisco, CA 94115; Pyramid Bookstore, 2849 Georgia Avenue NW, Washington, D.C 20001; as well as most bookstores in the Five College area.

AFRO-AMERICAN WOMEN AND THE VOTE, 1837-1965
University of Massachusetts at Amherst
November 13, 14, 15, 1987

Friday, November 13

- 2:30 P.M. Rosalind Terborg-Penn: Issues of the Conference
- 4:00-6:00 P.M. Panel 1: Coalitions of Gender and Race, 1837-1869
- 8:00 P.M. Keynote Address by Mary Berry: On Politics and Afro-American Women

Saturday, November 14

- 9:00-10:30 A.M. Panel 2: Personhood and Citizenship: The Struggle of Afro-American Women, 1865-1898
- 10:45-12:15 Panel 3: Defining for Themselves: Creating a Black Political Base, 1890-1920
- 2:00-3:30 P.M. Panel 4: Defining for Themselves: Consolidating the Struggle, 1900-1935
- 3:45-5:15 Panel 5: Movin' on Up: Afro-American Women's Search for New Forms of Political Power, 1930-1965

Sunday, November 15

- 9:00-11:00 A.M. Panel 6: Roundtable Discussion: Directions of Scholarship in the Field
- 11:15-1:15 Panel 7: Roundtable Discussion: Black Women and Electoral Politics—Contemporary Issues and Strategies

Co-sponsored by the University of Massachusetts at Amherst and the Massachusetts Foundation for the Humanities and Public Policy. For further information call (413)545-1922