Instructions

Please answer the following questions based on the property you own in Vermont. If you own more than one property in Vermont, please answer the questions based on your largest wooded property.

- "Woodland" or "wooded property" is defined as an area with trees, at least one acre in size, that is not mowed. It does not include Christmas tree farms, orchards, or nurseries.
- If your largest wooded property in Vermont is owned by more than one person, the owner who makes most of the decisions about the woodland should answer this questionnaire.
- If you do not currently own land in Vermont, please write "No Land Owned" on the cover of this questionnaire. Leave the rest of the questionnaire blank and return it in the postage-paid envelope provided.

General Questions about your Ownership

1. a) How many acres of land do you currently own in Vermont?

If you own more than one property in Vermont, please answer this question, and all of the following questions, based on your largest property.

--	--	--	--

 Acres of Land

↳ b) About how many acres are wooded?

--	--	--	--

Current Use Program

9. Vermont's Use Value Appraisal (UVA) program, often called the "Current Use" or "Land Use" program, reduces property taxes for qualified woodland owners by calculating taxes based on the value of the land for forestry, rather than its fair market (typically development) value.

a) How familiar are you with Vermont's Current Use Program? Please select only one statement.

If you checked either of these two boxes please skip to question #10

- I have never heard of the term "Current Use Program"
- I have heard of the term "Current Use Program" but I do not know much about it
- I am somewhat familiar with the Current Use Program
- I am very familiar with the Current Use Program
- I am extremely familiar with the Current Use Program

b) Which statement below best describes your thoughts, or personal experience, about enrolling your woodland in Vermont's Current Use Program? Please select only one statement.

My land is currently enrolled in Current Use

My land was enrolled in Current Use, but now it is not

I am in the process of enrolling my land now

I plan to begin the Current Use application within the next year

I plan to begin the Current Use application more than one year from now

I have thought about enrolling my land in Current Use, but have not yet made a decision

I have thought about enrolling my land in Current Use, but decided NOT to enroll

I have thought about enrolling my land in Current Use, but my land does not qualify for the program

I have not thought about whether I want to enroll my land in Current Use

Expert Visits

10. To learn more about their woodland, Vermont landowners can arrange a visit with a woodland expert to walk their land and answer questions/provide personalized advice. Experts include foresters, biologists, and fellow landowners who represent both government agencies and non-governmental groups. Depending on the type of expert, landowners may pay for the visit or receive the visit free of charge.

- a) Who, if any, of the following experts have visited your woodland?
Please select either "Yes", "No" or "Do Not Know" for each expert.

Yes	No	Do Not Know	Woodland Expert
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	Vermont county forester
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	Consulting forester/private consultant
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS) employee
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	Vermont Fish and Wildlife employee
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	Audubon Vermont representative
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	A knowledgeable fellow landowner (such as a Vermont Coverts or Tree Farm participant)

- b) Which statement below best describes your thoughts, or personal experience, about arranging for a woodland expert to visit your land? Please select only one statement.

<input type="checkbox"/>	A woodland expert has visited my land
<input type="checkbox"/>	I am currently in the process of arranging for an expert to visit my woodland
<input type="checkbox"/>	I plan to arrange a visit with an expert within the next year
<input type="checkbox"/>	I plan to arrange a visit with an expert more than one year from now
<input type="checkbox"/>	I have thought about arranging a visit with an expert, but have not yet made a decision
<input type="checkbox"/>	I have thought about arranging a visit with an expert, but decided NOT to do so
<input type="checkbox"/>	I have not thought about whether I want to arrange a visit with a woodland expert

Patch Cuts

11. A "patch cut" describes an area of woodland, between 1/2 acre and 5 acres in size, in which all or most of the trees have been cut to open the canopy and allow plants/trees to grow back naturally.

a) How familiar are you with patch cuts? Please select only one statement.

If you checked either of these two boxes please skip to question #12

- I have never heard of the term "patch cut"
- I have heard of the term "patch cut" but I do not know much about it
- I am somewhat familiar with patch cuts
- I am very familiar with patch cuts
- I am extremely familiar with patch cuts

b) Which statement below best describes your thoughts, or personal experience, about making a patch cut on your woodland? Please select only one statement.

- I have completed a patch cut on my woodland
- I am in the process of making my first patch cut on my woodland now
- I plan to make my first patch cut within the next year
- I plan to make my first patch cut more than one year from now
- I have thought about making my first patch cut, but have not yet made a decision
- I have thought about making a patch cut, but decided NOT to make this type of cut
- I have not thought about whether I want to make a patch cut on my woodland

Conservation Easements

12. Land development rights can be sold or voluntarily given away to a conservation organization, which permanently prevents the land from being developed. This is commonly called a "conservation easement."

a) How familiar are you with conservation easements? Please select only one statement.

If you checked either of these two boxes please skip to question #13

- I have never heard of the term "conservation easement"
- I have heard of the term "conservation easement" but I do not know much about it
- I am somewhat familiar with conservation easements
- I am very familiar with conservation easements
- I am extremely familiar with conservation easements

b) Which statement below best describes your thoughts, or personal experience, about putting a conservation easement on all or part of your woodland? Please select only one statement.

- I currently have a conservation easement on all or part of my woodland
- I plan to put a conservation easement on my woodland within the next year
- I plan to put a conservation easement on my woodland more than one year from now
- I have thought about putting a conservation easement on my woodland, but have not yet made a decision
- I have thought about putting a conservation easement on my woodland, but decided NOT to do so
- I have not thought about whether I want to put a conservation easement on my woodland

Cost Share Programs

13. Cost share programs provide financial assistance to qualified woodland owners to conduct specific conservation activities on their land, such as removing invasive plants, creating a forest management plan, or enhancing wildlife habitat. Funding for cost share programs can come from federal, state, or non-governmental groups, such as the Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS) or the Woods, Wildlife and Warblers program.

a) How familiar are you with cost share programs for woodland owners?
Please select only one statement.

If you checked either of these two boxes please skip to question #14

- I have never heard of the term "cost share program"
- I have heard of the term "cost share program" but I do not know much about it
- I am somewhat familiar with cost share programs
- I am very familiar with cost share programs
- I am extremely familiar with cost share programs

b) Which statement below best describes your thoughts, or personal experience, about participating in a cost share program for your woodland? Please select only one statement.

- I have completed one or more cost share programs in the past
- I have applied for a cost share program in the past, but have never completed a program
- I am currently participating in my first cost share program now
- I plan to participate in my first cost share program within the next year
- I plan to participate in my first cost share program more than one year from now
- I have thought about participating in a cost share program, but have not yet made a decision
- I have thought about participating in a cost share program, but decided NOT to do so
- I have not thought about whether I want to participate in a cost share program

13. d) Are you currently participating, or have you already participated, in any of the following cost share programs? Please select either "Yes", "No" or "Do Not Know" for each program.
