Academic advising is a process wherein you and an advisor work closely together to set goals for your college experience. Whether it is your plan to take a few classes, transfer to another institution, or earn a degree from Middlesex, your advisor will work with you to develop a plan to achieve your goals.

Middlesex Academic Advising Mission Statement:

Academic advising at Middlesex Community College is a shared practice throughout the institution that supports teaching and learning. Individualized, collaborative relationships between students and advisors lead to a better understanding of current skill levels, aptitudes, interests and strengths. This fosters an appreciation of the role of higher education planning in developing and achieving student objectives.

The advising process includes providing timely, accurate information about academic and career opportunities and requirements, college policies and procedures, and seamless transfer pathways. Advisors also connect and refer students to support services and resources.

Through frequent interaction, advisors engage students in assuming an active, self-sufficient role in their academic planning. Advisors promote student retention and progress by encouraging students to identify and pursue their appropriate educational and professional goals.

EXPECTED STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES

As a result of the Middlesex academic advising program, you will be able to:

1. Identify your academic, career, and life goals and develop a plan to achieve them.
2. Demonstrate responsibility for your academic success by participating actively in the advising process (scheduling advising meetings, coming prepared to advising meetings, meeting advising deadlines, utilizing advising resources, etc.) to achieve your goals.
3. Utilize self-assessment information, such as the college placement test, to construct your academic program plan and use college resources such as academic support and tutoring services, career, personal and transfer counseling, and experiential learning opportunities as appropriate.

While completing your studies at Middlesex, you will work closely with your advisor to develop a plan, which you will build using the Degree Works software. Your plan will include information and documents, such as your goals, plans of action to complete your goals, and class schedules that will demonstrate that you have met the academic advising learning outcomes.
