

University of Massachusetts
Amherst

Middle Matter

Item Type	Article
Download date	2026-05-13 03:10:13
Link to Item	https://hdl.handle.net/20.500.14394/7505

THEORIES OF INDIVIDUAL COUNSELLING: RELEVANCE TO THE NIGERIAN SITUATION

edited, with an introduction by
Christie C. Achebe

An examination of nine theories of individual counselling, all of which are formulated from the perspective of Western, white middle-class values. The theories, which are commonly taught in counsellor education programs in Nigeria, are examined for their relevance to the Nigerian situation. It is the first time that a number of Nigerian counsellor trainers have articulated their perceptions of how applicable the selected frameworks are to a cultural setting vastly different from the one for which they were originally formulated. It is also the first time that such views have been collated in one volume.

Augustine Nwoye, Psychoanalytic Theory of Sigmund Freud
• Christie C. Achebe, Individual Psychology of Alfred Adler •
Christie C. Achebe, Person-Centered Theory of Carl R. Rogers •
Theresa Ikeme, Rational Emotive Therapy of Albert Ellis •
J. Kwesi Essuman, Behavioural Approaches to Counselling •
P. Oka Nwaogu, Gestalt Therapy of Fritz Perls
• Augustine Nwoye, Reality Therapy of William Glasser •
B. C. Emenogu, Transactional Analysis Theory of Eric Berne
• Augustine Nwoye, Existential Counselling

Published by Five College Black Studies Press
310 New Africa House
University of Massachusetts
Amherst, MA 01003

Cost: $9.00

COURT OF APPEAL

The Black Community Speaks Out on the Racial and Sexual Politics of Thomas vs. Hill

Edited by Robert Chrisman, Publisher and Editor-in-Chief, and Robert Allen, Senior Editor, of The Black Scholar

No event since Watergate has created the national debate generated by the confirmation hearings of Supreme Court Justice Clarence Thomas. Still, all the media coverage of this investigation of race, gender, sexuality, the black psyche and intra-racial politics, overlooked one key aspect: the impact on the black community. Now, at last, prominent black thinkers—from arch-conservatives to liberals to radicals—make their voices heard.

COURT OF APPEAL brings together analysis and opinion by writers such as Maya Angelou, Derrick Bell, Julian Bond, Gloria T. Hull, Nathan Hare, Calvin Hernton, Judge A. Leon Higginbotham, Jr., June Jordan, Julianne Malveaux, Orlando Patterson, Beverly Guy-Sheftall, Barbara Smith, Robert Staples, Niara Sudarkasa, and others—compiled by the editors of the leading independent African American intellectual publication, The Black Scholar.

This provocative work examines such issues as how African Americans perceive their interests; the disturbing sexual backlash against Professor Anita Hill; the inability of some members of the Judiciary committee to comprehend the nature of sexual harassment; white Americans' confusion about and fixation on black sexuality; and the character, goals and values of the new generation of post-civil rights blacks. In addition, it features a chronology of the hearings, the complete texts of Thomas' and Hill's statements, and the position statements of the major black organizations that testified.

BALLANTINE ONE WORLD $9.00/$11.50 in Canada